EMBARGOED Until Release Date: Friday 25 March 2022

If this is your first-time hearing Car Park Social, you literally couldn't have picked a better moment in time to discover them. Their meticulously crafted new single Over The Counter is easily their best work to date, heralding the band's ascension to a higher plane of song writing. Twisting and turning like a rollercoaster through different tempos and moods, it is epic and unpredictable – anchored only by its beautiful chorus – and, like any good rollercoaster, you want to go again as soon as it's finished.

Mixed by Andy Lawson, Over The Counter was tracked by Karnivool's Drew Goddard and Barefoot Bands' Brenton Meynell at the Historic Coolgardie Railway Station – an amazing location already featured by Car Park Social in the video for their single The Captain And The Queen. Balancing a free-form approach to structure with catchy melodies and heartfelt lyrics, Over The Counter falls somewhere between a critique on the world and self-expression... a story many people will relate to, set to music that flows like a movie.

CAR PARK SOCIAL

over the counter

So where did this come from? Well, depending on where you are in the world, you may or may not have visited the town of Esperance – the last piece of Western Australia before a very long swim to Antarctica. In a small town like Esperance there aren't many musicians around. As a result, small town bands tend to be made up of members with distinctly different music tastes, backgrounds, and visions for what the band should be. This either comes together or it doesn't. Over The Counter is a great example of what happens when it comes together.

Car Park Social have spent the past few years writing, recording, and gigging as much as the crazy times have allowed. Their efforts have not gone unnoticed. 2021 saw them sell out their debut EP launch as well as taking the stage at WAMfest and Nannup Music Festival... rounding out the year with a WAM Song of The Year nomination. They have been putting in the miles, and it is reflected in the calibre of their song writing. Over The Counter turns another corner. Creative and adventurous, it is the band at their best, and it ushers in 2022 with so much ambition and promise.
